MINING STOCKS

Are all right. And some of those that are quoted at lower prices than usual are actually worth more than they ever were. We some weeks ago pushed the sale of Silverline. To-day this is one of the most promising properties in Rossland. In fact there is not a mine that we have recommended that is not more valuable to-day than at any other time. There are several New Companies Incorporated which are likely to be most valuable. We have secured the sole agency for some of these. One is the

Rossland Red Mountain Gold Mining Co.,

Just above the War Eagle. This heavy stock is put on the market at 15 cents, and we recommend it as a very good property and likely to be a great producer at a very early date. We handle the Mining Stocks in only the best stocks and refuse to touch any other.

Difficulties in the Way of the Imperial Government—Princess Maud's Trousseau.

Colliery Strikes in Prospect—Bitter and Protracted Debate on the Agricultural Rating Bill.

British Chartered South African Company to Be Investigated—Revenue Returns.

LONDON, July 4.—The wedding of Princess Maud of Wales to Prince Charles of Denmark has finally been fixed for July 22. The Queen will attend. It has practically been decided that the young couple will traverse London while on their way to Sandringham, in order to enable the masses to greet them. The trousseau, which has been prepared by various English and Irish houses, is almost completed; the work has been under the personal supervision of the Princess of Wales, who has allowed a number of lady reporters to inspect it. The wedding gown is white satin, with a deep belt of silver embroidery, studded with a delicate design in brilliant. The material was woven at Spitalfields. It would take columns of space to briefly describe the host of charming costumes, adapted to all occasions, which have been prepared for the popular Princess. These costumes are chiefly tailor-made, and include a bicycling costume of fawn colored Venetian cloth with narrow skirt, having little pockets at the hem to hold shot, intended to keep the dress in place. Among the numerous hats is a leather-hued "Tam-o'-Shanter," in addition to a number of fancy straws for bicycling and walking. There are gloves in endless variety, and hose of finest silk with beautiful designs in embroidery and open work, besides innumerable indoor evening shoes and slippers of most delicate and beautiful material. One pair of slippers are wrought in brilliant. The number of outdoor shoes and gaiters is unusually large, and all leather shoes, either Russian or kid, have thick soles and low heels. Some of them are very high, running up to 15 buttons for real hard work. Each pair is fitted with light polished boot-trees, brass plated, and engraved on the plates are the arms and initials of the bride as Princess of Denmark. The Princess of Wales, among other gifts, has presented her daughter with a superb circular Russian cape of purple velvet, lined throughout with the finest sable and having a deep sable collar.

EXPENSIVE HORSEFLESH.
It appears that Mrs. Langtry, who objected to Mr. Enoch Wishard's Macbriggs being adjudged winner of the 150 sovereigns plate on Wednesday, on the ground that the horse had won over 500 guineas in America and was therefore not qualified to enter for that event. The objection, however, was overruled. As a coincidence, two of the most famous English studs sold at auction this week and over excited the racing world in anxiety to obtain possession of one or more famous horses; hence unexpectedly high prices were reached, and the influx of successful speculators in the cycling boom and African mines, as well as numerous foreign racing men, kept the game lively. In the late Colonel North's best lot, Red Hand, a four-year-old chestnut horse, realized 5,355 guineas, being bought by Mr. Rucker, who has made a fortune by the promotion of bicycling companies. The total sale produced 37,350 guineas for 54 animals. The sale of the late Baron Hirsch's stud realized 47,144 guineas for 32 horses. All the great racing magnates were at the sale; in addition to the representatives of Marlborough, Curzon, Lord Lonsdale and others, many foreign breeders were present, seemingly determined to secure mares, and they succeeded in obtaining several of them. One foreign bid was only a hundred guineas below the selling price of Lafleche, 13,230 guineas, though this mare was only expected to realize from 8,000 to 9,000 guineas. It appears that Sir Tatton Sykes, the apparent purchaser of Lafleche, named the price for the mare; but Lady Sykes gave Lord Marcus Beresford, who purchased her for Sir Tatton, carte blanche, and now it seems the lady's husband persists in his refusal to take Lafleche. It looks therefore as though the famous mare of the late Baron Hirsch would be re-auctioned, in which case Lord Marcus Beresford may have to find the difference in price if he fails to realize as much as he bought her for. Incidentally, it is generally admitted that the price paid for Lafleche was too high. The total realized for ten mares was 27,000 guineas.

ANCIENT ARTILLERY COMPANY.
The programme for the visit of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts to London has been slightly modified. The trip to Henley has been abandoned for a trip to Windsor Castle. The reception committee to meet the Bostonians at Liverpool on Tuesday is composed of six members of the London company and a civil committee headed by Lord Colville, of Culross. On the occasion of the inspection at Marlborough House, guards of honor from the London company, with band and colors, will proceed via the Thames embankment, and the Bostonians will join them as they pass the Hotel Cecil; the horse artillery and field batteries will each furnish a party of twenty men to keep the grounds at Marlborough House.

The Duchess of Marlborough continues to be the rage. She entertained a large house party at Blenheim on Sunday, including Mr. and Mrs. Henry White. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. White entertained the Duke and Duchess of York at dinner at their residence on Grosvenor terrace. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. White will visit the Marquis of Salisbury at Hatfield, remaining there until Monday. The United States ambassador, Mr. Thomas F. Bayard, is to leave town July 20 for a yachting cruise along the coast of Scotland and to North Cape, on Sir John Pender's yacht.

THE AGRICULTURAL BILL.
The parliamentary struggle over the agricultural rating bill was the most bitterly contested since the days of Irish obstruction. Even upon the third reading the opposition took the unusual course of raising a set debate, Mr. Henry Asquith, who was home secretary in the Rosebery cabinet, moving its rejection. The bill is admittedly bad and calculated to do the Conservatives great harm at the next election. The urban constancies of the Conservatives demand a revision of the rules of the house, which permit of a useless waste of time in obstruction. The only redeeming feature of the debate was the admirable tact and firmness of the Speaker, William Court Gully, who did not leave the chair throughout the night, and who in this sitting proved himself to be a Speaker worthy to follow Mr. Arthur Wellesley Peel, now Viscount Peel.

The overloading of the sessional programme and bad management have weakened the reputation of Mr. A. J. Balfour as a leader. Internal cabinet jealousies also have something to do with the government troubles. They may serve, however, as a lesson for the future. A letter from Mr. Gladstone is published to-day denouncing the whole sale increase of expenditures on armaments as wild, wanton and perilous, but it fails to evoke any sympathy. The public is more moved by a serious article from the pen of Sir Charles Dilke, just published, predicting that Great Britain, single-handed, is destined to engage in a great struggle against Germany, Russia and France combined. The light, he claims, may come off at any time within a decade, ostensibly about Egypt, but really on account of jealousy of Great Britain's colonial expansion. Therefore Sir Charles urges Great Britain to hold herself free from any alliances which might only prove illusive and devote herself to the development of her defences.

The Spectator propounds the question as to what role America will play in such a struggle affecting colonial interests. Having sanctioned the acceptance of the resignation of Cecil Rhodes, the government has now acquiesced in the opposition's demand for the appointment of a select committee of parliament to investigate the affairs of the British Chartered South Africa Company. The government wanted a special judicial commission, and the ministers are blamed for yielding to Sir William Vernon Harcourt in this matter. But the idea is that it will probably either compel the opposition to share the responsibility or throw on them any blame for the dilatory inquiry, which is extremely likely, as the committee cannot sit until next session.

The revenue returns for the first quarter of the current fiscal year show an increase of £1,696,000 ($8,408,000), £1,000,000 of which is derived from the excise duties, indicating, it is claimed, that the prosperity of the working classes greatly exceeds the estimates of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. If this prosperity is continued on the same scale there will be another good surplus for the government to devote to defences or other objects.

The prospect of a general coal strike in England is being discussed; the employers are trying to effect a ten per cent. reduction in wages, and the miners of Derbyshire and Lancashire have already refused to accept the proposition. Such a strike would have a serious effect upon the home railroads which have lately been enjoying a boom.

A letter was read in a police court case on Thursday from Canon Scott Holland, implying compromising relations with a boy. The Canon to-day published a letter absolutely denying every immoral allegation suggested.

At the Persian embassy in London the officials in charge have issued a denial of the report that an attempt was recently made to assassinate the new Shah.

The American Theosophists started their English campaign yesterday evening in the Queen's Hall in this city, and were cordially received.

The Coventry Machinist Company, the oldest in the bicycle business, was to-day sold for £250,000. It gives the shareholders £18 for every £4 10s. share and fifty per cent. dividend.

The recent suspensions of the English amateur athletes, Bradley, Bacon, Downer, Watkins, Blair and Crossland, by the Amateur Athletic Association, was in the nature of a thunderbolt in sporting circles. They were all entered for the amateur championships which were decided to-day. It is hoped this will purify amateur athletics in England.

ACCIDENT ON THE C.P.R.

Brakesman Killed—Eight Cars of Tea and One of Coal Thrown Into the Water.

VANCOUVER, July 4.—(Special)—A report was widely circulated to-day that there had been a serious accident on the C.P.R. As the rumor was somewhat indefinite an official report of the accident was asked for at the Divisional Superintendent's office. The report was to the effect that near No. 1 (Farr's) tunnel the high water had filtered through the dump and left it looking all right, but as soon as the engine of a freight train going East last night with a cargo from an Oriental steamer struck the weak spot the engine sank and was derailed, carrying a train into the water, which included eight cars of tea and one of coal. Edward Dearnier, a brakesman, was killed, and Engineer Carey and Fireman Coughlin were slightly injured. Half the freight will be saved. Nos. 1 and 2 passenger trains got over the bad spot all right yesterday and the track is now all right. The other trouble on the line from the slide, etc., is at an end. The water is falling in the river and no further trouble whatever is anticipated.

GREEDY QUEBEC GRITS.

They Would Shelve Senator Scott and His Friends Are Vigorously Protesting.

This Province to Suffer for Personal Jealousies—Sifton to Represent the West.

British Pacific Seeking a Charter—An Untimely Testimonial for Mr. Laurier.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, July 4.—The cabinet was in session all this afternoon, and meets again on Monday, so that the Liberals who are hankering for the flesh pots must possess their souls in patience for a few days more. In the meantime there is a great row on in the Grit camp here over the matter of Irish Catholic representation, and the evident intention of Mr. Laurier to shelve his old colleague Hon. R. W. Scott, to make way for one of his Quebec friends, either Fitzpatrick or Devlin. These are both young and altogether untried men, while Senator Scott has given a lifetime to the service of the party, to which his name has always contributed strength and respectability. He has been opposition leader in the Senate since he went out with Mr. Mackenzie and Mr. Laurier in 1878. His friends here are vigorously exerting themselves on Senator Scott's behalf, and are writing letters to the Grit organ the Free Press recalling his party services and urging that in his old age he should not be overlooked in the distribution of political honors.

Mr. Templeman's desire for a portfolio under Mr. Laurier will not be met, according to latest information, as British Columbia is to be left out in the cold altogether. A seat is to be found for Clifford Sifton, of Manitoba, who will represent the territory between Lake Superior and the Coast.

Sir Charles Tupper takes great interest in the election returns, and looks for further Conservative gains in that connection. He says the cabinet have not considered the matter of postponing the meeting of parliament, but that it could quite properly be deferred by whatever government might be in power.

Notice is given that the British Pacific Railway Company will apply for Dominion incorporation at the coming session of parliament.

The election of twenty-five members of parliament is gazetted to-day. Two of Laurier's prospective cabinet ministers were in town yesterday, Messrs. Mulock of Toronto and Borden of Kings, Nova Scotia. Their marked good spirits indicated their own faith in the reports that they are to be called.

A subscription has been started to purchase Mr. Laurier a house here. Manufacturers and contractors are not to be excluded from the list of subscribers, and if the intended recipient of the gift were a Conservative minister with the patronage of the Dominion at his disposal the Grits would be found shouting that the gift was in anticipation of favors to come. They doubtless know best what would influence them.

ALDERMANIC RESPONSIBILITIES.

TO THE EDITOR:—It is really disgusting to learn that a couple of notorious aldermen are bounding Dr. Duncan, the health officer. Have these aldermen so soon forgotten that by a jury of their own countrymen they are held not altogether guiltless of the death of fifty-four people at the Point Ellice bridge; that these deaths were caused in a great measure by the aldermen not having had the bridge examined at proper intervals and so neglecting their duty. Surely these aldermen should be the last to complain of neglect of duty on the part of Dr. Duncan, particularly when this so-called neglect was of no consequence whatever to the public welfare as shown by the certificates of Drs. Davie and Helmcken—in fact that Dr. Duncan had acted within the law and there had been neither neglect of nor disobedience to the law. If any one should be punished it is the spy who entered the isolation hospital without permission and departed therefrom unfumigated and very venomous. Surely it is time the acrimony of a political character were neutralized and rendered harmless. M. D.

TRUTH AND HONESTY.

TO THE EDITOR:—I read in the Times a letter from my friend Ald. John Macmillan. Now, sir, why he should have gone out of his way to insult Mr. Duck you no doubt fail to see, but I have got used to his abuse. His practice is to make an assertion, and then, when caught, switch off on some other assertion. Last year when Mr. Geo. Stelly came to my assistance we "nailed him to the tree," and now a similar thing occurs. He made a statement, which I at once denied, and the next day with three declarations made by the persons interested, I again nailed him. His assertion that "Mr. Randall is not now nor never was a voter in Alderman Partridge's ward" may be right; but what has it got to do with Mr. Randall as a fireman, and I am told a good fireman, too? JOHN PARTRIDGE, Alderman.

SHIPS AND SHIPPING.

The Ship "C. F. Sargent" Has Trouble With Her Crew Before She Sails.

At 5 o'clock last evening the tug Lorne left for sea with the lumber laden vessels Melrose and C. F. Sargent in tow. It was with no particular rejoicing that the Sargent took her departure. The Chinese cook aboard had incurred considerable debt while the ship was in port, and up to the time of his leaving received frequent visitations of the wrath of other Chinamen. On Friday evening two of the ship's crew attempted in vain to desert. Avoiding the notice of the others aboard they embarked in a small boat astern and made off in the direction of Macaulay Point. The little steamer Gorge was going out to the ship with some supplies on a lighter at the time and the second mate being on the lighter watched them proceeding until an opportune moment to give chase presented itself. Finally the lighter was dropped and the Gorge went in pursuit. The men were caught just as they were about to disembark, and upon their capture offered resistance. One pulled a knife and cut the second mate on the hand, but he was soon overpowered and the two placed in safe keeping aboard ship.

With a heavy cargo, received mostly at Portland, the O. R. & N. steamship Asloun was given dispatch for Oriental ports last evening. She received as cargo here about 200 tons of flour, lime, lumber and general merchandise, and as passengers a small number of Chinamen.

STILL IN DOUBT.

Board of Health Fail to Reach a Decision Regarding Dr. Duncan.

Resolution and Amendment Voted Down After a 'Three Hours' Discussion.

The city council, sitting as a board of health met again yesterday to continue their investigation of the charges made against Dr. Geo. H. Duncan. There were no witnesses called, and as Ald. Partridge and Wilson were absent Ald. Glover said that if there was nothing more to do than to dispose of the case, he would move an adjournment so as to enable the full board to be present when a decision was reached.

Ald. Humphrey, Cameron and Macmillan wanted to go ahead, while Ald. Williams suggested that as there was nearly always a full meeting of aldermen on Monday night it might be possible to have a meeting then just before the council meeting.

A telephone message was sent for Ald. Partridge, but as that failed to bring him Ald. Glover's motion was put and lost, the mover, Ald. Williams and Tiarks voting for it.

Ald. Marchant then moved the following resolution:

"Whereas certain statements affecting the duties of the medical officer were published in the Victoria Daily Times on June 29, 1896, and whereas the said medical officer did upon investigation by the board of health admit the said statements to be substantially correct, whilst claiming that such conduct as described did not imperil the health of the city; and whereas, in the opinion of the board of health the medical health officer did by such conduct openly violate the rules and regulations made by the said medical health officer and approved by the board of health, to the detriment of the city of Victoria; and whereas, the Mayor as the chief executive officer of the corporation on Saturday, June 1, did expressly forbid the violation of said rules and regulations when the question was raised by the said medical health officer in conversation with the Mayor; therefore be it resolved, that the council request the medical health officer to resign his office under the corporation, such resignation to take effect on or before Saturday, July 11, 1896."

Ald. Humphrey was the seconder and Ald. Cameron endorsed it as the only consistent course for the board to take.

Ald. Glover admitted that it would have been better if Dr. Duncan had not allowed the men to leave the isolation hospital in view of the mayor's instructions, but Dr. Duncan was acting within his prerogative, as section 10 of the health by-law gave the medical health officer discretion in the matter if there was no danger to the public in letting a suspect out. The only feature against the doctor was the mayor's orders, and as Dr. Duncan had previously always done his duty well this particular instance might be overlooked.

Ald. Tiarks took the view that as Dr. Duncan's action was not detrimental to the health of the city he would vote against the resolution. Though Dr. Duncan should have acted on the mayor's orders, he had power to do otherwise.

Ald. Macmillan concurred in the resolution, holding that Dr. Duncan had endangered the health of the city by his action.

Ald. Williams remarked that great stress seemed to be laid on the fact that a suspect had been allowed to go out of the isolation hospital, though it was known that last year some had been allowed to go in the same way and nothing was thought about it. The man had been properly fumigated and, as the letters of medical men showed and also Dr. Duncan's testimony, there had not been the least danger to the public health. The public in the past had looked upon the council as too fond of setting themselves up as authorities against their professional men and of interfering with them. The council had no right to pose as medical authorities. The board could not but admit that since Dr. Duncan had been health officer there had been no recurrence of the smallpox epidemic of some years ago. He had simply stamped the disease out.

Ald. Marchant while admitting that it was unwise to interfere with professional men, held that Dr. Duncan had broken the very regulations he had laid down.

Ald. Williams replied that the regulations did not state that all suspects must be isolated. The health by-law gave the doctors discretion.

The Mayor did not consider that the resolution in its present form should be put as it endorsed the whole of the statement in the Times, which was not accurate. For instance, in releasing the man, Dr. Duncan had not acted contrary to the law, for, as a matter of fact, the health by-law gave the medical health officer discretion in the matter. What Dr. Duncan did do was to disregard his (the Mayor's) wish that the men be detained for the period of incubation. Dr. Duncan had acted very indiscreetly but had not broken a rule or regulation. With regard to the resolution, the board should bear in mind that Dr. Duncan had been a very vigilant health officer, though he had in this instance acted imprudently.

Ald. Marchant, after some discussion, agreed to amend his resolution as follows:

"Whereas certain statements affecting the duties of the medical health officer were published in the Victoria Daily Times on June 29th, 1896, and whereas the said medical health officer upon investigation by the board of health admits the first paragraph in the statement to be substantially correct, whilst claiming that such conduct as described did not imperil the health of the city, and whereas the Mayor, as the chief executive officer of the corporation, on Saturday, June 19th, ordered the confinement of the suspects at the Isolation hospital when the question was raised by the said medical health officer in conversation with the Mayor. Therefore, be it resolved, that the council request the medical health officer to resign his office under the corporation, such resignation to take effect on or before Saturday, July 11th, 1896."

As an amendment Ald. Williams moved, seconded by Ald. Glover: "Whereas it is evident from the information laid before the board that the medical health officer did not act contrary to the health by-law as published in the Times newspaper, but had on the other hand acted strictly according to the power given him by the health by-law; therefore we do not think the matter of sufficient importance to be further considered by the full board. The medical health officer admits he overlooked the order of the Mayor; therefore it is now a question for His Worship the Mayor to deal with and that the question be left in the Mayor's hands to deal with as he thinks most advantageous to the public interest."

In support of this amendment Ald. Williams held that Dr. Duncan not having exceeded his powers under the health by-law the only thing against him was his not carrying out the Mayor's order. Consequently it was strictly a matter for the Mayor to deal with.

The amendment was put and lost, Ald. Williams, Tiarks and Glover voting for it, and Ald. Cameron, Humphrey, Macmillan and Marchant against it.

Ald. Marchant's resolution was then put, Ald. Cameron, Humphrey, Macmillan and Marchant voting for it, and Ald. Williams, Tiarks and Glover against. The Mayor, exercising his right, voted against the resolution, which was therefore lost. His Worship explained that he voted against the resolution, as he wished action deferred till a full board was present. There was nothing to prevent the resolution being brought up again.

The meeting then adjourned, and Ald. Macmillan posted up a notice that he would move at Monday night's council meeting: "That the services of Dr. George H. Duncan, medical health officer, be dispensed with from and after July 10, inst."

AN OPERATION AVOIDED.

A SMITH'S FALLS CASE OF GREAT IMPORTANCE.

Erysipelas in the Face Develops Into a Running Sore—Doctors Declared That Only an Operation Could Bring Relief—A Medicine Found Which Made the Painful Operation Unnecessary.

(From the Smith's Falls Record.)

A famous German medical scientist once remarked that the world is full of men and women who are sick because of their scepticism. The wisdom of this remark was never more self-evident than it is to-day. There are countless scores of sufferers who would rather suffer than use any medicine not prescribed by their favorite doctor. To these people, perhaps, the story of Mr. Thos. E. Phillips of Smith's Falls, may convey a moral. The following is the story as given by Mr. Phillips to a Record reporter:—"Several years ago I began to fail in weight, lost my appetite and erysipelas started in my face, and then a running sore broke out on my cheek. I consulted three physicians and they all said it would be necessary to remove a portion of the bone. All this time I was unable to do any work and was suffering intense mental and physical agony when I chanced to read in the Record about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and resolved to try them, thinking they would do me no harm anyway. I had not used one box when I felt they were helping me. I continued and after taking eight boxes the running sore on my cheek completely healed and the operation the doctors said was necessary was avoided. I regained my weight and am once more possessing a good appetite. In fact I was made a new man so remarkable was the change. We now consider Pink Pills a household necessity." Mr. Phillips was a respectable and well-to-do farmer of Wolford township until last spring when he sold his farm and is now living a retired life in Smith's Falls. He is about fifty years of age though looking younger, and a living witness of the wonderful curative properties contained in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This great medical discovery has reached the high position which it holds through the power of its own merits. By its timely use the weak are made strong; pale wan cheeks are given a rosy hue; lost vigor is renewed and the suffering ones are released from pain. If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, they will be sent by mail on receipt of fifty cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the company at Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Remember that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail and do not be persuaded to take either a substitute or an imitation.

THE STRUGGLE FOR OFFICE.

We infer from our Ottawa correspondent's telegram of yesterday that there is a good deal of dissension within the Grit party relative to the division of the spoils. Mr. Laurier does not find it very easy evidently to satisfy his supporters in the different provinces as to who shall represent them in the cabinet. This was to be expected. The Grits have been so long out of office and have been so exceedingly hungry for place that they have formed an inordinate idea of the advantages to be derived by individual party workers from the accession of their party to power. Grits who see, or think they see, a seat in the Cabinet within their reach are naturally a good deal excited, and exceedingly jealous of those who consider that they also have claims to the coveted place. We undertake to say that when Mr. Laurier has definitely settled who are to be his colleagues in the government he will have made quite a number of deadly enemies who will not be appeased by sweet speeches and flattering attentions. "Hell hath no fury," the poet says, "like a woman scorned." If he knew much about politicians, their ambitions, their aspirations, and their jealousies, he would have substituted for the last four words of the line "like a partisan slighted." There will be heartburnings and bitter revilings among the leading Grits, and the feeling which causes them will not be the less fierce and acrimonious because discretion requires the discontent to be for a while, at any rate, concealed.

We trust, however, that one of the consequences of the violent struggle for office will not be to deprive British Columbia of her representation in the Cabinet. There is reason to fear that rather than make bitter enemies and to continue dissension in the party Mr. Laurier may consider it prudent not to make an appointment for British Columbia at all. If he acts in office as he has out of office he will refrain from coming to a decision on a difficult and unpleasant subject as long as he possibly can; he will be more intent upon finding plausible excuses for delay than reasons to justify prompt action. The claimants should see to it that their fight for office does not cause the interests of the province to be sacrificed.

It is amusing to notice the impatience with which the rank and file of the Grits are waiting for the resignation of Sir Charles Tupper. They will wonder by-and-by what they were excited about. The change of Government will have no influence that can be perceived on their fortunes. Things, as far as they are concerned, will go on in the old way. Anything good that the Government has at its disposal will go to others, who, of course, did nothing to deserve it, and they will be compelled to say "it makes no kind of difference to us which party is in power. We were, in fact, better off when the Tories, whom we opposed, were in office than we are now when the Liberals whom we voted for and worked hard for hold the reins of power." The great bulk of the Grits, we venture to say, will after a little while talk in this way to themselves and their intimate friends, for they will be sure to find that the fine things they were to have and the beneficial changes that were to come when their friends were elevated to power existed nowhere but in their excited imaginations. They will learn by experience, perhaps unpleasant, that the "change" they longed for and helped to bring about had nothing good in it for them.

IT IS NOT IN HIM.

"Dear Mr. Laurier," writes an admirer of the Grit leader, "give us a strong Government." That is precisely the sort of Government that Mr. Laurier cannot give the country. He is, to begin with, not a strong man. He is, as far as he is known, very much the reverse of strong. He has, as Mr. Tarte said twenty years or so ago, no settled principles. He is the weakest kind of an Opportunist. Look at his course on the trade question. Has it been that of a strong man conscious of his strength? He has made the complete circle from protection to protection through various modifications of free trade. Sir Richard Cartwright is a strong man, and if he had the country with him would give it a strong Government. Compare his course on the trade question with that of the man the exigencies of politics require him to call his chief. Was there ever a more striking contrast?

Mr. Laurier cannot give the country a strong Government for the simple reason that he is a political leader without a policy. A Government that has no well defined policy cannot possibly be strong. Mr. Laurier's correspondent looks to him for an honest Government. Mr. Mackenzie was a strong man. He had a will of iron, and he could pursue the course which he believed to be the right one no matter who opposed him or what obstacles stood in his way. Yet we have his own word for it that it required all his strength of mind, of principle and of character to keep the Grits from robbing the Treasury. In fact the task proved too much for him and he broke down in trying to perform it. How would Mr. Laurier, the friend and supporter of Mercier and his fellow-boodlers, act in such a position? Would he fight against the boodlers until both bodily and mental health failed him? We shall see. He will be tried, and that sorely, for the Grits are as hungry and as unprincipled in 1896 as they were in 1876. If it is in Mr. Laurier to give the Dominion a strong Government he will prove a very different man in power to what he has been in opposition. Laurier is supple, but not strong.

THE CONSERVATIVE OPPOSITION.

We are glad to see that defeat has not discouraged the true Conservatives of the Dominion. They are in good spirits and are waiting with amused expectation to see what use the Grits are going to make of their victory. They are gratified to observe that the sensible supporters of the Government that is soon to be are bound to permit as few changes of policy as possible to be made. They smile good-humoredly when they observe the change that has come over the Grits with regard to the trade question. The sheriff with a search warrant could hardly find one honest, practical free trader among them. The men who were perpetually talking about free trade and the wonderful advantages of a tariff for revenue only have disappeared as if by magic. The men who expect to bear the responsibility of office in a few days talk soothingly about tariff changes. They are to be brought about gradually and in such a way as to hurt no one's business. This is what Mr. Laurier said in Montreal on the 26th ult.:

A great task had now to be performed by the new Government. Agriculture was depressed and would have to be fostered. The tariff had to be modified and the school question to be settled. Although the question had been before the country for six years, he did not despair of settling that grave difficulty to the satisfaction of the Dominion and along the lines of toleration and of good will. As for the fiscal policy of the new Government, Hon. Mr. Laurier said that they were reformers and not revolutionists, and the work of modifying the tariff would be gradually accomplished, so as not to interfere with the trade of the country.

Nothing is here said about free trade as they have it in England, nothing even about a revenue tariff. The patient is to be operated upon, but the surgeon assures him he is not going to be hurt. There is nothing now about applying the remedy furnished by the Constitution to the obdurate Manitobans to its fullest extent. From what the coming Premier says about his policy it is fair to conclude that it would require one of Sam Weller's magnifying glasses to distinguish what is to be the Grit policy from what has for many years been the policy of the Conservative party. The Grits, from their leader downwards, by their cautious and very moderate utterances with respect to the course they are to pursue on the subjects which have been made the issues at the polls, are without appearing to be conscious of what they are doing paying the Conservative Government the highest possible compliment. They all talk as if they could see nothing to reform in the policy which the present Government and its immediate predecessors have been pursuing. It is therefore no wonder that the defeated Conservatives are in good heart and that they take a cheerful view of the course which as a loyal and active Opposition they are to pursue.

The Montreal Gazette is pleased with the prospects of the Conservative party. In its issue of the 27th it says:

The outlook for the Conservative Opposition could not well be better. The party will be homogeneous. The question that divided it when it was in power has been taken out of its hands, by the people whose interests it sacrificed itself for. The Manitoba school difficulty with all its ugly features is now Mr. Laurier's. He has the choice of displeasing such of his Quebec followers as are sincere in their desire to aid the Manitoba minority, or of breaking the alliance with the McCarthyites, which enabled him to win so many seats in Ontario. Mr. Greenway's refusal to melt before his sunny ways will force him to choose one of the evils. The Conservatives have but to stand together and they will not only hold their own, but will gradually win back their old strength. There was no popular condemnation of the principle of tariff protection in the result of the election of Tuesday last. In the Province of Quebec, where Mr. Laurier has the whole of his majority, the industrial sentiment of the people is protectionist. Liberal candidates who won by so large majorities as Ald. Prefontaine and Ald. Dupre recognized this in their speeches. There are cropping up in the telegrams every day incidents which show that the sentiment in the other provinces is protectionist also. A cancelled order in a factory because of Mr. Laurier's success is an argument that strikes home to a whole community, and strikes deep. The announcement that a burned-out pork packing establishment will not be rebuilt till it is seen what Sir Richard Cartwright will do with the tariff, is another of the same kind. There will be many such arguments before the Liberal Finance Minister delivers his budget speech, and their effect will not be overcome by foolish screechings at "tariff robbers," and equally foolish laudation of the theoretical beauties of free trade, when everyone knows that all that the Laurier Government can give is free entrance into Canada for the goods of foreign countries. It cannot secure a solitary concession that will give Canadian goods a better hold of foreign markets. The Conservatives will have not only one of the ablest, strongest and most united oppositions in the history of the Dominion, but they will have most to hope for in the bye-elections. They can with reason expect to see a gradual decline of the Liberal Government's strength, just as they did when, eighteen years ago, a Liberal Government, with Mr. Laurier in it, was misdirecting the affairs of the nation. They can look for a reversal of public opinion sufficient to defeat such a Government as Mr. Laurier can form, even before the five years of the Parliament just chosen passes over.

ILL-TEMPERED.

In the matter of Mr. Templeman's ministerial ambitions, his ill-tempered abuse of the Colonist for publishing the facts equals in stupidity the application—reported to have been made on his behalf—that the office be kept open for him. Our correspondent at Ottawa wired that the Times' representative there published Mr. Templeman's desire in the Journal, and when that paper comes to hand in a few days the public will have evidence upon which to judge between the Colonist correspondent and the editorial writer in the Times, who as recklessly as untruthfully alleges that the story was concocted in this office.

THE CITY.

The best of all—I.O.O.F. excursion to Seattle on August 1st.

The monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association will not be held until Friday morning, July 10. The meeting will open at 11 o'clock in room 40 of the market hall.

Messrs. J. H. Todd & Sons yesterday received word from their new Anacortes cannery that 125 cases of salmon had been packed that day and everything was working well.

During the stay of the U.S.S. Monterey in these waters some time ago, one of the lieutenants witnessed the physical drill of the bluejackets of H.M.S. Royal Arthur at Esquimalt, and was so taken with it that, according to a recent San Francisco Examiner, he has been teaching his own men the exercise, and recently at Santa Barbara gave the volunteer naval brigade of that place their first lesson in the movements.

The sale of work by the ladies of the Agenorian Society on Tuesday and Wednesday at the assembly rooms should prove decidedly attractive, as a great deal of trouble has been taken to make the affair successful. Lunch is to be served from noon to 2 o'clock each afternoon, and in the evenings the Fifth Regiment band will play for the promenade concert. The good work deserves hearty support, as it is in aid of the Jubilee hospital.

On Tuesday the annual Methodist camp meeting opens at Sidney and will be in progress for six or seven days. Arrangements for meals on the grounds have been made and in anticipation of large numbers going out, rates over the V. & S. railway have been secured. Among those who will address the meeting will be Rev. J. F. Betts, the minister in charge; Mrs. Barrett, an evangelist from Port Townsend; Rev. T. W. Hall, of Nanaimo; Rev. Solomon Cleaver, Rev. J. H. Hicks and Rev. W. D. Misener.

At meeting Monday evening's city council meeting Mr. Ald. Tiarks will move that the city engineer be instructed to furnish an estimate for a steel and stone bridge suitable for foot, vehicular and tramway traffic across the Arm. In this connection it may be noted that the petition to the city council to take steps to bring in a by-law for the building of a steel and stone bridge instead of the present pile structure has now been signed with the names of owners of property to the extent of $3,000,000, a very much larger amount than required by the act.

The fire record for the month of June is as follows: June 4, fire adjacent to Mello's paint store, Fort street; cause, varnish igniting. No loss. June 12, fire on Rock Bay bridge. No loss. June 13, fire at Lansdowne Bakery, Oaklands; cause, supposed children playing with matches. Loss, $200; no insurance. June 14, fire in shed adjoining No. 111 Blanchard street; cause, unknown. Loss, $10. June 15, fire at 87 Pandora street; cause, incendiary. No loss. June 22, fire at two-story frame residence, Leighton road; cause, unknown. Loss, $2,000; insured. Fires and alarms during six months, ending 30th June, 47. Losses, $5,019.

One of the most useful institutions in this city is the Maternity Home. Its doors are open to respectable women of all classes and creeds. The poor are treated without charge, while pay patients are cared for at reasonable rates. The home has heretofore been sustained by the voluntary subscriptions of the charitable disposed, but of late the revenue has fallen off so low a condition that a fear is expressed by the managers that the establishment must be closed unless more generous contributions are made. The merchants and citizens of Victoria have acted in a liberal spirit towards the home; but their aid has proved insufficient. A slight effort is all that is necessary to make the establishment self-sustaining, and concerted action on the part of those who wish it well would insure its permanency. It is hoped and believed that an effort will be made and the closing of the home averted.

A GENERAL good time is the unanimous verdict of all who attended the picnic of the St. John's church Sunday school at Sidney yesterday. The beautiful beach at Sidney was never nicer, and special attractions were afforded by a well chosen programme of sports.

The annual general meeting of the British Columbia Board of Trade will be held on Friday next for the purpose of receiving the usual yearly report, and the election of officers, council and board of arbitration for the ensuing twelve months. The position of the board was never stronger than it is at present, and this strength will be augmented by additional members provided the entrance fee is reduced as proposed. Several applications for membership are now in the secretary's hands and more are expected before Friday next. To-morrow is the last day for nominating for officers and council. Any member may nominate three persons, but such nominations must be in the secretary's hands not later than to-morrow. Everything points to a very successful meeting on Friday next, as the business men are attaching more importance to and taking greater interest in the business of the board.

A BASKET PICNIC.

Extended Programme of Sports and Amusements Provided at Shawnigan Lake.

A large crowd from Duncan and the surrounding country as also from Victoria, attended the basket picnic held at Shawnigan lake yesterday. For the day an interesting programme had been prepared, consisting of boat races, swimming races, running and jumping contests, putting shot, greasy pole, dancing etc. There were in all some fifteen events, and these passed off with such promptness and satisfaction as to elicit warm expressions of appreciation of the services of the managing committee, which consisted of Messrs. A. McKinnon, P. J. Hall and F. D. Pelkey. After the sports of the day, dancing was indulged in from early evening until midnight. The races upon the programme resulted as follows:

Running long jump, 3 entries—A. Bell, 1; F. D. Pelkey, 2.
Putting shot, 17 lbs., 3 entries—D. Cameron, 1; R. Findlay, 2.

PORT ANGELES EXCURSION.

An Enjoyable Trip on the Steamer "Islander" and a Hearty Welcome at the Hands of the Citizens.

As pleasant an outing as any that was had yesterday was the excursion, or rather the excursions, to Port Angeles by the steamer Islander, which made three trips for the accommodation of Victorians who desired to participate in their nearest neighbor's celebration of Independence Day. There was a numerous passenger list on each voyage, and Captain Irving, commodore of the C. P. N. Co.'s well appointed fleet, was unremitting in his attentions to those whom he had in charge. The weather was all that could be desired and Port Angeles laid itself out to honor and provide for the wants of its numerous guests. The streets and principal buildings were decorated with flags and banners; and on the arrival of the steamer her passengers were met by a goodly number of citizens and greeted with the excellent music of an efficient brass band. Numerous sports were provided, and among others the bicycle races were well contested. The Maple Leaf baseball club of Victoria met and defeated the Stars, the local aggregation, after an exciting game. The Victoria boys only played eight innings, as their opponents failed to even the score at the end of the ninth, and the team retired with only 12 runs to their credit, two less than the number put together by the Maple Leaves. The grounds played on were in bad condition, and to this fact the boys attribute the absence of star work during the contest.

"HACKLOADS OF HEELERS."

The Liberals "Rally" in Eight or Ten Carriages to "Jolly" Mr. Bostock.

Mr. William Templeman and Senator McInnes, accompanied by eight or nine "hackloads of heelers"—as the Times would call them—drove down to the Charnier's wharf last night to greet Mr. Hewitt Bostock, their rival for the cabinet position that Hon. Mr. Laurier was expected to give to British Columbia. There was a band, too, which played about the streets for some time before the arrival of the steamer. When Mr. Bostock came ashore the hacks formed in procession and, escorted by a score of boys carrying brooms afire, gave a feeble representation of the advertised "torch-light procession" that was to have escorted the member-elect for Yale-Cariboo to the Times office. There speeches were indulged in after Mr. Templeman had introduced Mr. Bostock as "Hewitt Bostock, Esq., M.P. for Yale-Cariboo." Mr. Bostock told how until lately there were not many Liberals in Cariboo, but that since his advent "Liberals had seemed to spring up out of the ground," somewhat reminding one of the story of Jason and the dragon's teeth. Mr. Bostock's speech was rather tame, but wound up with red fire and a skyrocket or two sent up by one of the faithful. Mr. Bodwell spoke next, and two or three sky rockets soared even higher than his flights of eloquence; but when Mr. Seale followed, the rocket made a zigzag erratic course close to the ground and buried itself in the dust of the street. The mechanical fireworks having given out about this time, and the brass and wind instruments of the band being in requisition at Oak Bay, Ald. Macmillan and Marchant were called upon and talked the assemblage away.

Good Blood
Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. Impure blood means scrofula, dyspepsia, rheumatism, catarrh or other diseases. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine purifies, vitalizes, and enriches the blood, and sends the elements of health and strength to every nerve, organ and tissue. RUSSIA IN NORTHERN CHINA.

Value of Col. North's Estate—Cholera at Cairo—Turks Defeated by Cretons—Italians in the United States.

LONDON, July 4.—The Novosti, of St. Petersburg, announces that Russia has obtained absolute freedom of trade in Northern China.

The Standard asserts that the sale of the estate of the late Col. North, the nitrate king, has realized £500,000.
Dr. Alern, leader of the Argentine radicals, who was the chief opponent of the ex-president, Dr. Saenz Pena, and who resigned in 1895, committed suicide. He took part in several revolutions against President Pena, but was pardoned.

The total number of cases of cholera at Cairo to date is 7,550, while the deaths from the disease number 6,216.
The Creton insurgents defeated the Turks on Wednesday between Kisamo on the northwestern coast of the island of Crete and Selino on the southern coast, killing 200 of them and capturing three of their cannon. The Turks were advancing to raise the siege of Kandani, in which 1,600 Turkish troops are besieged.

TO EXPLORE ALASKA.

Movements of the U. S. Geological Survey Party.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The first advice from the geological survey party sent to investigate the gold resources of the interior of Alaska has just reached here from J. F. Spurr, the expert who heads the expedition. The party reached Juneau on June 9 and before going on, hastily inspected the mines there. Expert Spurr says these mines will be even more productive in the future than now. The party anchored off Dyea, at the foot of Chitlat Pass and were about to begin the ascent of the pass. They hoped to so expedite the passage across the Chitlat Pass to the field of work on the Upper Yukon that work can be completed and a return made to the East in October or November. If the party remains later they will winter on the Upper Yukon.

ARE YOU SUPERSTITIOUS???

Some folks who believe in signs will tell you that it is unlucky to fall overboard on Monday, or to take hold of a buzz-saw in motion on Tuesday, or to fall down stairs with a coal-scuttle on Wednesday, or to shoot yourself on Thursday or to sit down to dinner with twelve others and only food enough for ten on Friday, but they all agree that it is unlucky and unwise to give a good customer a poor article in Dry Goods any day in the week. For months past we have been holding a "Summer Sale." The hundreds who have filled our store from day to day can testify that our goods are choice and of good quality and prices right. We avoid the everlasting harangue about bargains. The public of Victoria is thoroughly tired of posters telling about that which doesn't often exist. Nobody has the slightest confidence in a bargain store. The name itself is a libel on truthfulness. It is no wonder that peoples sometimes speak disparagingly of dry goods dodgers, and look on the whole thing as being a humbug and fake. This season's summer trade opened late, consequently we have still on hand a heavy stock of regular Staple and Fashionable Goods—not purchased especially for a cheap sale—which must be sold in short order to make room for autumn stock. Description will be given and prices quoted later on. We will be open on Monday and goods will be on exhibition in windows and at door. Prices marked thereon in plain figures.

MINING IN KOOTENAY.

Notes of an Interesting Tour—In-mensurable Resources of the

What Some Mines Have Realized—Advice to Investors in Mining Enterprise.

NORTHPORT, July 1.—(Special)—Com-mercially Northport has suddenly assumed first place in the relations between Canada and the United States. A corps of American and Canadian customs officers are located here to supervise the commerce of the two countries, and they are the hardest worked government officials I know of. Stages, steamboats and trains ply daily between here and important centres in British Columbia; and stages, steamboats and trains are crowded to overflowing. The trip up the Columbia river from here to Revelstoke on the Canadian Pacific I have written on in previous letters. I have tried to give an idea of its enchanting and indescribable beauty, for I would gladly bring here the lovers of the picturesque and sublime, that they may learn to worship the wonders of this glorious country. The lovers of natural scenery will come in time. But they have not come as yet.
The prospector, the gold-seeker, the speculator, the capitalist, the home-seeker, the adventurer, and the motley crowd that minister to the wants and luxuries of a new community, are rushing into British Columbia now. These are the pioneers of the most fascinatingly beautiful region on God's green earth. I never visit this country but I become dazed as I contemplate nature's unveiled charms and its boundless hidden treasures.

I have just returned from a most interesting tour of the mining district. On Sunday I explored Red Mountain on the back of a cayuse, and was utterly astonished at all I saw and heard. Two years ago Red Mountain was a wilderness, where a few hopefuls were delving for riches that might never come. But the slopes of Red Mountain to-day are not only a busy hive of industrial activity, but scores of comfortable homes and neat cottages already nestle on the hill sides and shelter joyous and happy families. The sweet voices of children and their merry peals of laughter were glad music to the heart of the traveller. Moreover, as we passed by those neat cottages on the War Eagle ground the strains of instrumental music were wafted to our ears, mingled with the songs of some light hearted maidens, to whom life is still romantic. Thus childhood, innocence, youth and romance are already perched here on the slopes of this mountain, and here also are the sweet and simple pleasures which are the true salt and savor of life, and which are the heritage of the poor and the lowly as well as of the great and famous.

The truth is, the enterprise of the mining speculator is ever creating opportunities for the toiling masses of mankind, for to those with strong arms and stout hearts mining furnishes the most profitable field for labor. Wealth and fortune has come to many and will come to more from the overflowing richness of these mines; but far better is the large and profitable employment they will give to the multitude whose fate it is to earn their bread in the sweat of their brow. But to return to my subject. I have had long consultations with mining engineers of world-wide reputation, who are there representing London and Paris capital, and I can state with the utmost confidence and assurance that within a radius of a dozen miles of Rossland nature has deposited more golden store for the use and benefit of mankind than in any similar area on the globe. Let me not for one moment be understood to say that fortune waits on every man who hies him to Rossland. It is not by any means the Eldorado of the poor man. The gold is locked in the bowels of the earth in a rock harder than adamant, and it takes lots of money, of labor, and of machinery and time to extract the hidden wealth.
That it is there in fabulous and inconceivable quantities is beyond dispute.

I saw $300,000 of ore lying on the dump of the Le Roi awaiting shipment, and the superintendent of that wonderful property assures me that as soon as his mining and shipping facilities are complete he will take $3,000,000 a year in gold out of the Le Roi mine. The War Eagle, which was bought with three other properties two years ago for $15,000, has just been sold to a London company for over a million.
The Iron Mask was one of the properties then thrown in as a bait to induce some mining speculators to buy the War Eagle for $15,000. Now the Iron Mask fetches $500,000 from British capitalists, for they know that they can make millions out of it. A little over a year ago Colonel John M. Burke bought the Great Western and Golden Chariot for $12,000.
It was thought then a wild and extravagant speculation, but a few weeks ago $250,000 was refused for that property.
It is now managed and controlled by Mr. Barr, of Colorado, and he says that on account of new discoveries he will not sell under million figures. I spent Sunday on the slopes of Red Mountain, noting, massing facts, and trying to draw deductions from all I saw and learned, but I am still utterly at sea.

From the Nickel Plate on the bottom of Red Mountain to the View on the crest of it are a series of cuts and shafts and tunnels exposing rich ore all over the mountain. The Nickel Plate people at a depth of 140 feet are taking out $242 rock, and the vein has widened out from a few inches on the surface to three feet at the bottom of the shaft. The View, a mile and a half above on the mountain side, is mining $30 in the face of their tunnel. Lying between the View and the Nickel Plate are the St. Elmo, the Cliff, the Red Mountain, the Pilgrim, the War Eagle, the Le Roi and Centre Star. It is absolutely impossible to place a value on any one of these properties, in the light of the extraordinary developments hourly taking place. Take the Red Mountain as a type of the undeveloped properties.
I traced a ledge of ore through this claim for 1,500 feet. At places some of the ore in this ledge has come to the surface, and it assays 10 per cent. copper and $8 in gold. They are driving a tunnel in on this ledge to catch the ore body at a depth of 200 feet, and when they strike that ore body they will have another Le Roi. Moreover, on this claim, 1,500 feet square, they have four parallel ledges.

To the east is the City of Spokane and the C. & N. Recently in the latter claim, at a depth of fifteen feet, the workmen uncovered seven feet of solid sulphide ore that assays $68 to the ton.
I have no doubt but this is the same vein as that of the Red Mountain, and if it be along that ledge are properties that will cast the Le Roi, War Eagle and Iron Mask in the shade.

The day before I examined what I must call the Central group of the camp, beginning at the Sunset and Nest Egg and ending with the Palo Alto, San Joaquin, and Commander and Vulcan.
Many whose judgment is worth respect propheesied that this central belt would prove valueless, but the developments all go to show that this central belt is equally rich with the wonderful northern belt. On the San Joaquin, a few feet from the Palo Alto, they are sinking on a narrow vein, but the ore in this vein ran as high as $250 to the ton in gold. Some of the ledge matter goes $78 in gold, and this fact proves that the ledge known as the Palo Alto ought to develop into one of the very richest of the camp. This ledge is clearly traced for fully a mile to the west, where it is exposed by a railroad cut on the Fire Fly ground.

In company with Captain John Irving and Mr. Monroe, of Victoria, I visited the Lily May, the Zilora and the Deer Park, which are all on the south belt.
The Lily May and Zilora are two very promising properties, but the Deer Park is probably the great mine of the Trail country. There are immense ledges of copper and iron sulphide cutting through the mountain. These ledges are from 60 to 100 feet wide, and the ore immediately below the surface assays from a trace to $40 in gold. All the experience of this camp has been poor gold assays near the surface, especially with big ledges, where the gold has been leached through the percolating of water. And if this be true of the Deer Park and gold value increases with depth this mine will become probably the greatest mine on earth. Four hundred feet from the main ledge the south ledge is being developed on the Deer Park claim. On this vein a cross cut is run through ten feet of ore that assays $12 in gold and $3 copper, and this ledge alone would be enough to make a great mine. The developments of the Deer Park are being watched with the greatest interest, for they will settle or cease and for all whether these immense fissures that cut the Trail country from the Columbia river to the head waters of Trail creek contain rich gold deposits, no matter on which side of the creek they are located. There are probably twelve such fissures, and they are being carefully worked and prospected.

It is certain that places will be found along these fissures which will prove barren and worthless. Volcanic disturbance or the pinching of the fissure will either have prevented the secretion of gold in paying quantities or have destroyed the possibility of extracting it with profit. But sufficient evidence is now present to demonstrate the fact that more gold will be dug out of those fissures within this generation than the golden land of Australia has yielded up to date. Investors in these Trail properties should be careful to see that their money be not sunk in the barren or broken places I refer to. There never was a mining country that afforded such opportunities for reaping a golden harvest out of the profits of legitimate mining, but there is and will be a good deal of dastardly speculation. I have already seen several blocks of worthless mineral land palmed off on the unsuspecting public as mines. It is useless to rail at and denounce such wildcat business, for the public seem to have an infinite capacity of gullibility in mining matters.
They like things cheap, and that is the bait of the wildcat performer. English and French capitalists bring their agents on the spot to buy up good claims, and the public should know that they have no chance now of getting a good thing for little money.

Those who want to speculate in mines had best entrust their money to mining men of long experience and well known probity. If they do, they are safe and liable to obtain big profits. I have incidentally mentioned the properties in Trail that are certain of great results, and I could safely add to this list such properties as the Crown Point, the Florence, the Jumbo, the Josie, the Mayflower, the Monte Christo, the Evening, the Columbia and Kootenay, the Eureka Consolidated, the West Le Roi and Josie and the Georgia. The Homestake and the Lee and Maid of Erin are also certain to make mines, but they have been woefully mismanaged, and until they are reorganized I should advise that they be left severely alone. The Eureka Consolidated has an ugly law suit on its hands, and so has the Pilgrim. In both instances it is a solid case of blackmail.
It is an attempt on the part of fraudulent and dishonest men to get possession of mining property of great value, not by discovery or purchase but by some legal technicality or error on the part of the rightful owners of the property. Claim jumping and fraud of this kind should be made a penal offense, as it is in Australia.

From Rossland I rode with United States Deputy Collector Moloney to the top of Grouse Mountain. I had heard a great deal of the discoveries made there since the Reservation was opened. It is just on the borders of the two countries.
The mountain is cut by ledges similar in character to those of the Trail country.
One of these ledges I traced for fully 2,000 feet along the mountain side. It is of immense width, and it shows copper and iron sulphide ore mixed with ledge matter. I should like to see a couple of hundred feet of development work done on this ledge. Till that is done I can give no statement about the future of Grouse Mountain. I shall reserve comment on other properties in the Reservation till I have carefully gone over the ground. I am inundated with fabulous reports of rich strikes made there, but I shall tell of them when I see them first.
I am going from here across the reservation and up to Boundary, and I will give your readers a synopsis of what I see and find during my trip.

Now, as to the town of Rossland, let me say that the hotel accommodation is all that could be desired. From Spokane to Rossland by rail and by steamboat takes about ten hours, and it is a trip that will be instructive and profitable. Spokane, of course, can be reached from the east and west by the Northern Pacific and from the south by the O. R.

& N. Travellers, however, must not expect the palatial railroad service of the Northern Pacific on the Columbia & Western from Trail to Rossland. That is a narrow gauge railroad, bent on coining money for Mr. Heinze, of Butte. It is doing that; but I would strongly recommend Mr. Heinze to improve his car service before Mr. D. C. Corbin makes connection with Rossland from here. Mr. Corbin, of the Spokane Falls and Northern, is pushing his road up Sheep Creek and into Rossland as fast as men and money can do it. He will also bridge the Columbia right here, so that Rossland will then be but seven hours' trip from Spokane. When that is done Rossland will fast become the biggest, most prosperous and richest city in the Province of British Columbia. P. A. O'FARRELL.

A CLERICAL GOLFER.

Rev. Dr. Rainsford and His Prowess at the Links.

It may surprise some people to know that one of the very best golfers in the United States is also one of the most popular preachers in America, but such is the case. The golfer in question is the Rev.
Dr. W. S. Rainsford, rector of St. George's church, New York city. He regards the REV. DR. RAINSFORD.

sport as the best and most social game invented for the amusement and exercise of man, and as a consequence he has addicted himself to it so assiduously that he has become wonderfully proficient.

In several hot contests he has carried off the honors, and on last New Year's day at the Lakewood Golf club tournament he won the Gould cup in splendid style from a field of 39 contestants.

Dr. Rainsford was one of the first members of the St. Andrew's Golf club, the pioneer golf organization in the United States. He is also a member of the Shinnecock club.

He is a quick, active player on the course and a long, true driver. No golfer is more popular than he, and he will probably be seen among the championship contestants at Shinneck on the annual meeting in July.

Michigan's Female Sprinter.

The new woman of Michigan who has created such a furore by her swiftness as a sprinter is a Chippewa Indian who was reared by a rough old woodsman named Crowl. She was adopted by him when she was three years old. From the time of her adoption by Crowl the girl was practically in training. She was given regular and systematic exercise in running, wrestling and other athletic accomplishments, and by the time she was 12 years old became noted in the neighborhood for her feats of endurance. At 16 she could outrun any man and could distance any skater in a region famous for its skaters.

She is now 19 years old, weighs 117 pounds and is as lithe and active as a panther.

She has been timed over a 100 yard course and is said to have easily done the distance in 9½ seconds.

She dresses in a combination of male and female attire consisting of a man's flannel shirt and coat, a short skirt reaching to the knees, knickerbockers and leather leggings reaching to the skirt. Her foster father is in feeble health, and it is not yet decided whether he will be able to follow out his intention of taking the young amazon to the east to enter her for all the running events under ten miles in the summer and fall meets.

Foreigners at Henley.

In speaking of the approaching Henley regatta an Englishman said recently:
"English rowing men are not at all easy in their minds in the matter of foreigners at Henley regatta, and I think with reason.
It is one thing to be hospitable to strangers, but the admonition to commence one's charity at home must not be disregarded. It has been correctly pointed out that Henley regatta is the great occasion that English amateurs have for a display of native oarsmanship, and this display takes place in the various guises of sculls, pair, fours and eights. As so many of our best men thus dissipate their powers in the course of each day they are fairly on an equality, but they are placed at an immense disadvantage against foreign crews who have been preparing themselves a long while beforehand for a particular event and reserve themselves solely for it. It is thus that the presence of a foreign crew becomes a disturbing element."

In all diseases that affect humanity there is some weak link in the chain of health, some spot that is the seat of the trouble. It may be the liver, the weak link in the chain, removes the cause of the

Quadra Mining and Milling Company

LIMITED.

Head Office—Victoria, B.C. Mines—Mineral Hill, Alberni, B.C.

Capital, $500,000, in shares of $1.00 Each.

DIRECTORS—Jno. Bryden, Esq., Geo. Alan Kirk, Esq., Thos. Shotbolt, Esq., J.P.
SECRETARY-TREASURER—Geo. A. Sargison, 48 Langley Street.

The above Company was formed for the purpose of purchasing and developing the Ophir and Last Chance mineral claims, which have been acquired, and the Quadra mineral claim has since been secured by the Company. These claims surround the southwestern end of the Consolidated Alberni group of claims, and comprise altogether about 130 acres of ground. An undertaking has been entered into with the E. & N. R. Co., for the purchase of this land. The Consolidated Alberni are now down fifty feet on their ledge, and the vein which was 18 inches on surface, has now widened to six feet of solid free gold quartz, which, in many recent assays has varied from $500 to $1,500 per ton in gold. There are several ledges on the Quadra Co.'s locations, and on one of these a shaft is down twenty feet and shows up a quartz vein two feet in width, which has assayed from $8 to $24 per ton in gold. In appearance the quartz is exactly similar to that of the Alberni mine, and it is expected that further sinking and stripping will prove the existence of a large body of rich gold quartz. Work is now progressing on the property, and as soon as the road now being built up Mineral Creek by the government is completed—thus enabling the cheaper transportation of supplies—a larger staff of men will be placed at work.

The mines were purchased by the issuance of paid-up shares to the vendors, and 150,000 of these will be sold and the proceeds handed over to the company for the purpose of developing the mines. A block of 25,000 shares is now offered to the public at the rate of fifteen (15) cents per share, payable as follows:— 5 cents on application, 5 cents in one month, and 5 cents in two months from date of application.

The management of the Company's affairs is in the hands of careful and responsible men, and investors can feel assured that their interests will be thoroughly protected.

Applications for shares may be made to the following brokers: Beaumont Boggs, Swinerton & Oddy, Lee & Fraser, Geo. Shedden or to the undersigned.

PESSIMISM, OR WHAT?

JUNIUS HENRI BROWNE ON THE ULTIMATE RESULT OF NEW WOMANISM.

He suggests that we may become like France Society, where the men make the beds and do the cooking or else enjoy elegant leisure.

(Copyright, 1896, by the Author.)

HE speculations and prophecies about the social changes that will be produced by and through the new woman are numberless, and many of them absurd. But they are natural and interesting, even when most fantastic. One of the possibilities that may result from the general adoption of the new woman has not, so far as I know, yet been considered, and it seems worthy of consideration. This possibility will involve a remarkable economic mutation which is by no means chimerical, for it has long existed abroad and has been brought about by what appears to be the reversal of the sexes.

It is to be seen and studied most satisfactorily in France, notably in Paris. It is perfectly familiar to Americans, though very few could ever have thought it likely to be repeated in their own country, or indeed to have thought of it at all. It is the conspicuous and excessive employment of women, their industrial if not financial preponderance, their seeming superiority to men in the ordinary relations of life. The sexes there have for generations been, in effect, on an equality. They have shared the cares, the burdens, the responsibilities of the human family; they have done the world's business together; they have been partners in every sense. This tendency, always strong, has steadily increased, especially since the Napoleonic wars, greatly reducing the number of men, made the substitution of women essential.

As the population of France diminishes—the next census will no doubt show this—women seem to rise in importance and men to decline, as they have been doing in truth for innumerable years. The two have long been exchanging places. Women occupy in France the positions which men should occupy; men the positions which belong to women. Travelers are struck by this invariably. At a hotel a man makes their bed and arranges their room. They seek information for a journey from a woman, and ask her for the items of their bill. They secure lodgings from and transact all business with her, and never meet her husband, though they know she is married. He is a gentleman of elegant leisure. While she is always at work he is smoking cigarettes, drinking wine, lounging on the boulevards.

We frequently talk of and laugh at this topsy turviness of France, never thinking that it may some day be ours. Yet many things here point that way. We are continually hearing from the old world that the women of the new are in the ascendant; that they are more capable, better educated, more resourceful, than the men; that they are gaining steadily, and that the men are falling behind. The very same thing has been said of France time out of mind. Before the civil war our women, as a rule, kept aloof from public affairs; were taken care of, coddled, flattered. They seldom tried to earn money, regarding work for wages as ungentle, not to be thought of. Now the exact contrary is true. Women today compete actively, fiercely, with men for all honors and all rewards. They often crowd them out, drive them to the wall, overmatch them. Ere long they may be able to get more money than the men, to gain the upper hand, to stand higher. This is not probable, but possible, in the long lapse of years. What, then—presuming it to be so—will be the result? Won't the Americans become like the French, like the Parisians particularly, in the struggle for existence? Won't they fall off in character, in true pride, in self-esteem? Won't they in time perform the minor offices and women the greater? Who can say?

Fundamentally, man is the money getting animal, woman the child bearing animal. She does not care nearly so much as he has cared to be a mother, and she has grown to be a money getter. Believed wholly or partially from the cases of maternity, she will have more time, she will seek more opportunity, to develop her individuality, to advance her interests. Children are coming to be regarded here, in large cities particularly, as they have long been in France, from a financial point of view, and they will be so regarded more and more. Money is today the ruling power of the world, and civilization has grown to be wholly commercial. The next century will doubtless intensify conditions of the present and propagate many unforeseen and startling changes. Women will, in the great American towns, if indications may be trusted, become more and more like the Frenchwomen in Paris, Marseilles, Lyons, Bordeaux. As they mount, will not the men descend? Can one sex gain constantly over the other without derogation to the other?

When woman shall be as practical, as monetary as man, will not much of her old distinctiveness evaporate? What will he then have to give her that she wants and needs in a material sense? What spiritual offering will she, immersed in trade or professionalism, have any longer for him? Will the witchery and wonder of her alluring sex remain in aught like their familiar force? Will they not be metamorphosed in each other's eyes, to each other's minds? Will not man as lover and husband be often dependent on woman for his pecuniary needs? Can he be so? Can she accept her altered state and still retain the relation and the feeling they have had in the past?

We men, it has repeatedly been said, are as lazy as we can afford to be. If we could be supported by our wives, should most of us make any determined effort to take care of ourselves? We know what fortune hunters are, and how they demean themselves after they have hunted a woman down and beguiled her into marriage. These miserable fellows are few and abominated in this land. But abroad they abound, and their odious vocation is held to be legitimate. We might not make fortune hunting a profession here as it is in Europe, but if we should find out that our wives could earn a much larger income than ourselves, try as we might, should we not after awhile lose heart and hope and subside into that irredeemable class known to their infamy as petticoat pensioners?

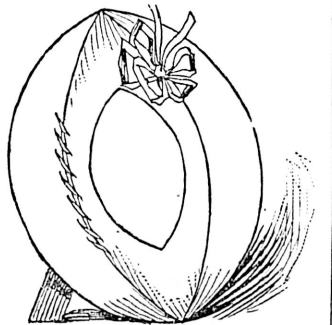

Many, many Frenchmen are such and feel not the shame of their situation. Might not we, veritable Americans, become equally degraded without suffering from the degradation? Debt is as insidious as it is baleful. We begin by resolving to pay to the last penny and end by absolute indifference to a mountain of obligation. And there are few debts more debasing than debts to our wives, for they are almost never defrayed.

It should be said, in justice to Frenchmen, that they have for centuries married not for love or romance, but for lucre and advantage. Custom has rendered the thing right in their eyes. They seem to think that the penalties of marriage must be mollified by cash. As they do their loving outside of wedlock, flagrant disloyalty is to them poetic. Our antecedents, traditions, habits, are radically divergent. We are naturally independent. We wish to owe our wives nothing but fidelity and devotion. Will the new womanism alter all this? Let us hope not. I do not even assert that it will, but it is possible, and the possibility is not pleasant to contemplate, however remotely.

JUNIUS HENRI BROWNE.

For Football Enthusiasts.

A pretty and attractive trifle that is sure to appeal to the boys who are lovers of sport and to the girls who follow in their wake, if not to their elders as well, is a frame made after the model of the football. It is really very simple, but it is new, which fact alone commands it, and it appeals strongly to the spirit of the day, so that it makes an admirable souvenir.

The good man who had lived a worthy life and even served his country without fame, but who woke up one day to find himself stalked of on all sides as the father of a noted ball player, has many prototypes. The pigskin is the symbol of the day. Therefore in planning favors for even small gifts the football has its place, and this novel photograph frame deserves to be remembered.

The material is oze leather or undressed calfskin in a russet brown color. The suggestion of the ball comes from the shape and the treatment. To make it successfully have the boards cut by an expert, the oval opening following the outer line. Leave a space on one side of the leather, as the drawing indicates, using a tiny strip of the same, and cover the braids neatly. With a brush mark the smaller oval and add just such shading as will bring out the shape. Then, as a finishing touch, sew fast to one corner a bow of blue, of crimson or of black and yellow, according to which university you wish to honor.

CLARE BUNCE.

Her Successful Case.

Miss Edith A. Reiffert, a young lawyer of New York, is the official attorney for the New York Women's Press club. Lately one of the members brought before the club a case in which a publisher had obstinately refused to pay her for an article that had been bought and accepted by his paper. Miss Reiffert undertook the case and carried it to a successful conclusion, inducing the publisher to settle in full. This was the first case of which Miss Reiffert had sole charge, and she had a right to be well pleased at her victory.

Polishing Wood Carvings.

Wood carvings, particularly those showing the tool marks of the artist, are better when not overladen with polish. After rubbing to a coat of raw linseed oil and turpentine, half and half, apply two coats of shellac, at five hour intervals, and when dry—which will be in ten hours more—dip a stiff brush in the linseed oil and give a brisk scrubbing. This will generally be sufficient for the purpose, according to The Art Interchange.

The Prohibitionist party in Philadelphia has chosen a woman, Mrs. E. Frances Jones, as delegate to the Prohibitionist presidential nominating convention.

Remember these Directions for using Cottolene

For shortening never use more than two-thirds as much Cottolene as you would of lard. When frying with Cottolene always put it in a cold pan, heating it with the pan. Cottolene produces the best results when very hot, but as it reaches the cooking point much sooner than lard, care should be taken not to let it burn—when hot enough, it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Follow these directions in using Cottolene and lard will never again be permitted in your kitchen or in your food. Genuine Cottolene is sold everywhere in tins with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and "steer's head in cotton-plant wreath"—on every tin.

Ministerial Changes in Prospect—Louis of Bavaria and Emperor Wilhelm.

Li Hung Chang's Visit a Disappointment—An Efficient Navy Minister.

BERLIN, July 4.—Rumors have been current throughout the week of another cabinet crisis, and in the Reichstag lobby the most extravagant reports were credited. But inquiries made in good quarters show that with the exception of the resignation of Baron von Berlepsch, the Minister of Commerce, already recorded, there will be no further changes until after the return of the Emperor; but before the Reichstag re-assembles there will be other ministerial changes.

Prince Louis of Bavaria, who distinguished himself in raising a storm in Germany by his protests at Moscow against being classed as a follower of Prince Henry of Prussia, who represented the Emperor William at the coronation fetes, has had an interview with the Emperor at Kiel. It was brought about by the Prince Regent Luitpold and lasted twenty minutes. His Majesty was reserved and haughty and expressed no direct criticism of Prince Louis' sensational Moscow speech. The Prince instead of remaining with his regiment at Augustburg, as had been intended, has been ordered by his father to proceed to his Hungarian estate as a sort of mild banishment.

At the launching of the new German ironclad Frederick III, the Emperor while inspecting the vessel remarked: "I hope I may yet see a German navy worthy of the German army." The radical newspapers contrast His Majesty's well known desire for a big navy with the peaceful aspiration in his speech upon the same occasion. Generally, however, the press avoids the subject.

Li Hung Chang has been received with the greatest enthusiasm and hospitality in Germany, but he departed leaving grief and disillusion behind him. Great things were expected from his visit, a German coal station in China, big orders to German firms, etc., but no such orders have been given and nothing has been done. An utterance of Li Hung Chang during his interview with Prince Bismarck is quoted in political circles. It was: "Capri was one of those who say 'It is ordered hence I'll do it.' Prince Hohenlohe has more confidence in his own opinion, which he defends with ability and caution."

The latest phase of the duel question is that the Emperor has ordered that any infringement of the imperial order of 1874, which binds officers to submit their quarrels to a court of honor before issuing challenges, shall be severely punished.

DECEIVED IN LAURIER.

Ontario Conservatives Realize That They Have Been Used to Establish Quebec Influence.

Maritime Province Ministers Make Reciprocity With the United States Their Policy.

TORONTO, July 4.—There is a growing feeling of resentment against the politicians of Quebec which threatens to be more serious than the school question ever was. Facts are daily coming to light which show that Laurier's duplicity was more marked than at first suspected. Conservatives who opposed Sir Charles Tupper because of his remedial legislation policy now see that they were badly deceived. The famous mandement of the hierarchy was used in Ontario to antagonize the Protestants, while in Quebec the Liberals made it their lever to gain power. Many go so far as to declare that some members of the hierarchy were in league with Laurier, who recently pledged himself to do far more for the Manitoba minority than Sir Charles Tupper ever intended to do. Whether or not this be with foundation cannot be proved, but from reports to hand there is no denying that several of the clergy in Quebec could not conceal the jubilation at Laurier's victory. The general opinion is that Laurier cannot hold power very long. The Conservatives, though apparently defeated, have no cause to worry.

F. B. Ellis, of the St. John Globe, and son of John V. Ellis, M.P.-elect, the proprietor of that paper, is here and says that Fielding, Blair and Davies, the Maritime Province Liberals who are to be taken into the new Ottawa cabinet, will urge Mr. Laurier strongly to secure reciprocity with the United States.

It is reported here that an agreement has been reached between the parties to postpone the opening of the House of Commons for ten days from the date fixed.

MONTREAL, July 4.—The Liberals have been claiming Morin, the member-elect for Dorchester. Morin, in a published letter, emphatically denies that statement. He states he was elected as an independent Conservative, and that he does not intend to support Laurier in the house.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—Full returns from Saskatchewan elect Hon. Mr. Laurier by 43 majority. Dalton McCarthy's correct majority in Brandon is 335. Full returns from Alberta elect Oliver by 784 majority, the vote standing Oliver 3,647, Cochrane 2,863.

BURGLARY AT WINNIPEG.

The Bank of Commerce the Scene of Operations.

WINNIPEG, July 4.—Burglars attempted to enter the Bank of Commerce here by digging through the sidewalk of a vacant store next door to the bank vault. A hole several feet in size had been made when it was discovered, the opening being closed with a sheet of paper during the daytime. Kalsominers working in the building discovered the hole and reported the matter to the police.

Aibions Win at Cricket After a Close Game Against the Victoria Team.

A Whole Series of International Events—A Couple of New Bicycle Records.

Victory again rested with the Albions in their match with Victoria on the former's grounds at Beacon Hill yesterday afternoon, by a score of 81 to 71. Victoria won the toss and went to the wickets first, C. E. Pooley and Irving facing the bowling of York and Anderson. These batsmen took the score to 30, when York gave way to Schwengers, and at 35 the first wicket fell, Irving being caught in the slips for a well played 26. Morley and Goward were also dismissed by Schwengers without further score. Wallis joined Pooley, and at 40 the latter was bowled by Schwengers for 6. Patterson came in next, and was run out for 4 when the score had reached 49. Drake was the next man, and was dismissed for 5, six wickets being down for 57. Only one run was made when B. Goward was bowled for 0. Wallis had the misfortune to be bowled by Schwengers' first ball in the next over for a pretty hit 14. The remaining wickets fell at 71, of which Gumble contributed a useful 10 not out.

The Albions started badly, two wickets being down for two runs. Schwengers and Green by steady batting brought the score to 21, when the former played a ball on his wicket from B. Goward. Swinerton joined Green and was sent back by a magnificent catch by A. T. Goward, 4 wickets for 28. J. E. Martin came in next, and Green, who was batting in good style, was unfortunately run out for 28 when the total was at 40. H. J. Martin joined his brother and a useful stand was made, the former being the first to succumb to a fast one from A. T. Goward. The score was now 70, of which he had made 14, and the Albions had 4 wickets to fall with 2 runs to get to win. J. E. Martin in the next over made the winning hit amidst applause, and shortly after was dismissed for a well hit 21. The rest of the wickets fell rapidly, the innings eventually closing for 81. The feature of the game was Schwengers' trundling, his analysis reading 7 wickets for 13 runs. Wallis and A. T. Goward also bowled well for Victoria, and Tye's fielding was excellent. The score:

PARKDALE BEATS BUFFALO.

TORONTO, July 4.—The Buffalo cricket team played a one inning match with the crack Parkdale club this afternoon and were defeated by a score of 86 to 60. E. Coulter was the only one of the visiting team to get into double figures, he making 22 by faultless cricket. The bowling of Wright and Hill was very good. The Parkdales will play a return match on the Buffalo grounds on August 12.

A WIN FOR OXFORD.

LONDON, July 4.—Oxford beat Cambridge by four wickets in the annual cricket match between the two universities just concluded. There was intense excitement and the Oxford men were wildly cheered, for the alleged unsportsmanlike conduct of the Cambridge team made the victory of the dark blues very popular.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, July 4.—In drawing for heats to-day Leander and Yale were allotted to pull in the first heat, with Yale on the Bucks shore. This is considered quite an advantage for the Americans, especially if a strong west wind, such as has been blowing every day this week, prevails on Tuesday. In this case Yale would be favored by a boat length and a half.

The Yale oarsmen generally are well pleased with having drawn to pull against the Leanders in the first heat. They say they are eager for the fray and would rather tackle the Leanders than the New College, as they think the latter will finish stronger, and if they beat the Leanders it will give Yale every confidence. Mr. J. B. Close, the coach of Trinity Hall, formerly of Lemars, Iowa, was asked what he thought of Yale's chances. He said: "I think they are good; their position is favorable and unless I am much mistaken they are sure winners."

Guy Nickells, talking over the withdrawal of E. A. Thompson, of Toronto, from the race for the diamond sculls, said: "I am sorry Thompson is not entered for the diamonds. He is a sportsman and a good fellow."

THE WHEEL.

The general club meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Rowing Club which was to have been held on Tuesday next has been postponed until Tuesday the 14th inst.
